

e. The address of a particular library routine

f. The total amount of space occupied by a program code and data